

About the Publisher

Pragati Foundation is a not-for profit, public charitable trust working continuously since 2011 for the upliftment of socially, economically and educationally weaker segment of our society, working with the moto of तत्परिवर्तनम भव i.e., "Be the change". From organizing mass campaigns to providing easily accessible higher education in rural areas, they are making every effort within their capabilities.

Prayagraj Law Review with cumulative efforts of editorial team of PLR and Pragati Foundation, is one such step which dreams of providing quality content to the masses.